The steamer Gen. Lytle blew up not fur from Madison, Indiana, on last Monday. The passengers state she was racing with the St. Charles at the time it occurred. About eighteen lives were lost. The boat is a complete wreck.

The Houston Star has been consolidated with the Dispatch and a new paper commenced under the name of the Houston Journal - Our friend R. H. Purdom formerly of this city will be the editor. We learn from the Journal that out of five cases of cholera in that city there have been four deaths.

We find in our New Orleans papers, a notice of the death of Captain A. P. Boardman, for the last thirty-five years a resident of New Orleans .-Captain Boardman was well and favorable known to many of our readers .-He was for many years in the steamboat business on Pearl River, and made regular trips as high as Monticeilo. For the last ton or fifteen years he was engaged in the lake trade be tween New Orleans and Mobile, and was in that business when the war broke up intercourse between the two

There is no doubt about the triumphant election of Duvall, for clerk of the Appellate Court in Kentucky, at the election last Monday. The majority is estimated at from 10 to 20,000. Dispatches to the St. Louis Republican. give the vote of ten or tweve counties, with large majorities for Duvall, but state that Hobson carried Louisville by 1600 majority. We presume there is some mistake about the Louisville vote, as the report published yesterday gave the majority to Duvall instead of Hobson.

FOR CINCUIT CLERK .-- It will be seen that Mr. W. O. Chapman is a candidate, for re-election to the office of Circuit Clerk of this county. Mr. C., during the short period that he has served in this office, has discharged its duties in the most acceptable manner to the publie, and we doubt not will how be elected for a full term. The present election to delegates from unrepresentofficials of the county have had scarce | ed parts. My proclamation was isly time to straighten up the old books. open new ones, and familiarize themsolves with the duties of their respective offices; and were it not that a litthe competition redounds to the interest of the printer we should be very glad to see them reelected without opposition. Taking this selfish view of becase, however, our motto is: the nore capilidates, the merrier.

The Louisinsp convention We will publish to morrow the report of the Attorney General, Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana and the Mayor of New Orleans in reference to the recent riots in that city. The original convention of 1864 was an State. It was the creature of military power, and never could have had any binding force upon the people of Louisiana, but for their ratification at the last popular election, and the Legislature recognizing it as the State Constiiution. In the election of members to that Convention but 8402 votes were given, two-thirds of whom were in the parish of Orleans. Polls were opened but in twenty parishes, and in many of them no opportunity whatever was given the people to vote. The whole thing in its inception was a disgraceful sham, a miserable burlesque on Republican government, was the representative of the military, camp followers and strangers, and not of the people of Louisiana.

This so-called convention composed of one hundred and fifty delegates met and after a long session in which the public money was squandered with a rapacity and profligacy surpassed only by the late Radical Congress, adopted a free State Constitution, made some "THE SOUTHERN MASON."-Major other amendments to the organic law Hillyer, of the Natchez Courier, an- of the State, and adjourned.
